Good Morning Paulina,

Great pictures, I hope they tasted as good as they looked! It was so nice to meet Tim, what a nice husband you have. We listened to his CD last night...WOW, what a master pianist he is. His talent is beyond words! I just laid on the couch and was completely consumed by his music...loved it! Thank you so much for sharing his music with us. Did you take the photo on the CD cover? I meant to ask you, but got caught up in conversation and forgot. If you did...It's really a good picture!!

Thanks again for letting Mark harvest some of your grapes. He's looking forward to processing them and tasting the final result. That's to be continued!

Have a great day...

Debbie
